

BIG PACKET BOAT
SUNK IN THE OHIOGREAT LOSS OF LIFE NEAR CLOVERPORT.

Steamer State of Missouri Strikes a Rock and Is Sunk—Twenty-Five of the Passengers and Crew Reported Lost—Later News More Hopeful.

CLOVERPORT, Ky., Jan. 21.—Against the sharp rocks of Bullock's Point, just below Wolf Creek, about seventy miles from Louisville, the steamer State of Missouri went to pieces about 6 o'clock Saturday evening. Although it is many hours since the terrible accident occurred an accurate estimate of the loss of life can not be made. There were at least twenty-five drowned. Most of them were colored roustabouts. The boat had, as far as can be obtained, ten passengers on board. Capt. Conlon, master of the boat, has not been heard from. There were twenty-five deck hands and about twenty officers and employees of the boat, making forty-five in all. Of this number about twenty-five were saved. The boat was valued at $30,000 and is a total wreck.

The accident happened about 6 o'clock Saturday evening. The boat had left Cincinnati at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon and had taken on board about 100 tons of freight and seven passengers there. It came on down to Louisville during the night and swung into the harbor at 7 o'clock Saturday morning. For three hours she lay at the Mail Line wharf boat, but took on no freight. Two passengers boarded her at Louisville. Promptly at 10 o'clock Capt. Conlon rang the bell as the signal for departure, and she swung into the stream with Capt. Dan Varble at the wheel. When the Falls had been cleared the wheel was relinquished to Capt. James Pell and his son. They are both experienced pilots and are well known in Louisville. Nothing happened of note during the day and the boat swept down in the swift current. She landed only once and that was at New Albany, where she took on two more passengers. The passengers were in the cabin and one of the ladies was playing at the piano. Mr. Whitehead was in the pilot house talking to Capt. Pell, the pilot. The current was sweeping down faster than it had been for a long time and there was an anxious look in the pilot's face. He told Mr. Whitehead that he was fearful of an accident. Shortly before 6 o'clock Capt. Pell's son entered the pilot house. The father and son took turns about the wheel, and the son had been sleeping. As he gave up the wheel to his son and put on his coat to go down to the Texas to sleep he remarked: "We are running close to the shore." He then left Mr. Whitehead and went down into the cabin, where he stood talking to Mr. Gariand, one of the passengers.

At Bullock's point there is a huge rock that juts out into the river. It has always been feared by river men and is one of the most dangerous points on the river. Among the pilots the State of Missouri bears the reputation of being a hard boat to handle. She was 252 feet long, and while it had an immense power it was very "bully" and hard to steer. Young Capt. Pell made the spikes of the wheel fairly hum, but he was unable to get it out of the powerful cross current. He saw the danger in a moment and shouted down the tube to the engineer to back out.

Then it swung round helplessly and with a terrible crash the stern of the boat struck the ledge of rocks. The whole stern end was torn out. The greatest confusion prevailed upon the boat. Capt. Conlon started out on the hurricane deck and in hoarse and excited tones called to the panic-stricken deck hands, "Run out a line and make fast to the bank." Two of them did grab an end of the spring line and bound into the water with it. It was not very deep and they easily managed to make the bank. Hurrying to a tree they made fast the line with a couple of quick turns. The rope was a small one, though, and under the terrific strain of the current it parted as if it were paper. There was no hope. Directly in the boat's path, only a few yards distant, lay a dangerous sand bar. The helpless vessel drifted against it and then settled, torrents of water pouring into the gaping hole in the stern. As it was filling and sinking Capt. Conlon ordered the yawl that hung upon the larboard side lowered. Two dozen willing hands seized and launched it. Then they piled into it pell mell, falling over each other, and occasionally one of them missed the boat and tumbled into the river.

The shrieking people, screaming at the top of their voices to be saved, gave no heed to the frantic commands of the captain, who was doing everything in his power to get them to try and launch another boat that lay upon the hurricane deck. The yawl that had been first lowered was swamped in a moment. It had hardly left the side of the boat before the score of struggling people overturned it. They all went down and were drowned. For just a moment or two desperate and despairing cries were heard as they battled in the water with the raging waves, and then they disappeared beneath the surface to rise no more.

In the meantime on the boat the greatest excitement prevailed. The women were weeping and praying and pleading with the men to save them. The boat was swaying and creaking under the awful strain upon it, the bottom having settled on the bar, with the waters washing over the deck and threatening every moment to carry off the cabin. Capt. Conlon worked hard for the safety of the passengers. The remainder of the crew and the passengers seemed to have lost all self command and were running to and fro in the cabin, screaming and wringing their hands. They did not even think to put on the life preservers, forty or fifty of which are always kept suspended on the walls of the cabin.

Capt. Conlon, Clerk Tules Wehrman, and the first mate were the only cool ones on board. The latter put life preservers on the five ladies and taking them to the side of the vessel pushed them into the river in spite of their screaming protests. Then he sprang in after them and swam ashore with them. One at a time he landed them. Just as the mate left the boat there was another crash like the roar of thunder and the cabin was swept from the hull and dashed out into the current. From the time of the crash into the rock until the cabin was carried away was not over ten minutes at the most, but it must have seemed hours to the unfortunate people who were copped up like rats in the death-trap. Five minutes after the cabin was borne away and disappeared in the distance around the bend all was still, and only a slight ripple of the water showed where the sunken hull lay. By this time the few people who lived in the vicinity where the accident occurred had arrived on the scene. There were probably a dozen people in all, and by energetic work seven persons in the water were rescued.

Within an hour after the accident there were 200 people on the scene from the surrounding neighborhood, making the survivors as comfortable as possible. None of the rescued ones saved any of their clothing, barely managing to get out with what little they had on. Men and women were hatless and without wraps and overcoats. Most of their belongings were swept away in the wreck. At Hawesville a lot of wreckage came ashore. Among the things recovered was the register containing the names of the passengers. It was so blurred, however, that the dates could not be plainly seen. It gave 103 passengers, but it is known that there was not that many people aboard. From this reason it is thought that a page or two may have been torn out. In consequence it is not known positively how many lives were lost.

Owners Hear of the Vessel's Wreck.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 21.—A telegram from Capt. Joe Conlon to the agents of the State of Missouri brought the first news that the boat had been wrecked on a rock ninety miles below Louisville and was a total loss. Conlon also said that all of the crew and passengers had been saved, and this was confirmed by later telegrams.

Fearful Loss of Life in Persia.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—The Times has a dispatch from Teheran, the capital of Persia, saying the town of Kuchan, in the province of Khorasan, which was destroyed by an earthquake fourteen months ago, and which was subsequently rebuilt, was again destroyed by an earthquake shock Thursday. The official report of the disaster placed the number of persons killed at 12,000. Fifty thousand head of cattle perished in the valley at the head of which Kuchan is situated.

Trial of Hayward and Blixt.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 21.—This morning begins the trial of Harry Hayward and Claus Blixt, charged with the murder of Miss Catherine Gung Dec. 3, Hayward as the instigator and Blixt as the perpetrator. It is rumored their lawyer has three lines of defense mapped out. The insanity plea is given as one of these.

Wants a Receiver Appointed.

NORFOLK, Ind., Jan. 21.—Several separate suits have been filed in the Hamilton County court against the Chicago & Southeastern railroad company and asking for the appointment of a receiver. The plaintiffs are Louis E. Wall, L. McClain, John H. Whitecotton, John A. Wheeler, H. F. Poes, W. M. Althony, Reuben McKinley. Total amount demanded about $2,500.

Gov. Morrill Is Still Reluctant.

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 20.—The senatorial contest has developed no change, the situation about the headquarters of several candidates being exceedingly quiet. If the Burton forces are to be weakened it now seems probable that Gov. Mitchell will be the man to do it, but he has not yet consented to have his name presented to the caucus to-night.

Will Appropriate $100,000.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 21.—The house Saturday considered in committee of the whole a bill to appropriate $100,000 for the assistance of the drought sufferers. After considerable debate as to the amount desirable to appropriate the committee voted to recommend for passage a bill carrying this amount.

Chest of Gold Is Found.

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mex., Jan. 21.—Two children playing east of here discovered a cavern. Several men explored the cave, revealing an iron chest filled with Spanish gold coin, amounting to between $250,000 and $350,000. It is believed that the money was placed in the cave by Franciscan monks.

TEN STRIKERS SHOT
IN A BROOKLYN RIOTEIGHT THOUSAND TROOPS
FACE THE MOB.

Riot At Noon In Which One Soldier and Three Railroad Men Are Killed and Seven Are Wounded—More Trouble Feared By the Authorities.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 21.—There are now eight thousand militia here. An encounter between the strikers and the militia at noon resulted in ten strikers being shot. Three were killed, and one member of the Thirtieth regiment was also killed. Great excitement prevails, and more trouble is feared. The troops now here include the entire First brigade of state militia under command of Brig.-Gen. Fitzgerald, Mayor Schieren, after another unsuccessful attempt to settle the strike, yesterday decided to call for more troops to assist in preserving order in Brooklyn and to aid the presidents of the various trolley roads to run their cars. He held a conference with the representatives of the strikers and President Norton, Lewis and Wicker, but no mutual agreement could be arrived at. Then the mayor had a conference with Gen. McLeer and some of the city officials, when it was determined to issue through the sheriff a requisition on the governor for additional military forces. The request was sent to Gov. Morton, who is in New York city, and a favorable reply soon arrived.

Many cars went astray yesterday. The switches were broken and obstacles were heaped on the tracks; wires were cut at various points and on the whole the day was full of petty annoyances for the railroad companies. Motormen abandoned their cars at various points and in some instances left the city as soon as they possibly could, so serious did the situation seem. Blood was spilled in quantities but no one was seriously hurt. There is much talk of the strike spreading to other branches of organized labor if some settlement is not arrived at soon.

THE HAWAIIAN REVOLT.

Private Advances Increase the Gravity of the Situation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Private advances from Hawaii increase the gravity of the situation. It is said that among the men placed behind the bars by the government officials were fifteen Englishmen who were alleged to have cooperated for the royalist conspirators and some of whom were found with arms in their possession. They proclaimed themselves British subjects and at once appealed for protection to the British minister. That official communicated with the government demanding that the republic of Hawaii give assurances they would not be condemned to die by any summary court-martial. President Dole, after consultation with some of his principal advisers, declared no assurances of any kind would be given that the Englishmen's lives would be spared if found guilty. There had been too much temporizing under former administrations in the islands and the government would not be dictated to any power as to its duty in regard to persons engaged in inciting revolution. Arms had been brought into the islands, together with other munitions of war, and these had been used against the properly constituted authorities, and in certain cases with fatal effects. Hawaii's republic did not ask protection at the hands of any government or any set of men, but was perfectly able to protect itself against domestic troubles and revolutionary uprisings. If this important news, which reached Washington by private advice, came also to the state department, it explains at once the sending of the Philadelphia after it had first been decided by the President no vessel was needed at Honolulu. The complications sure to result will necessitate a naval display of the United States to offset that which Great Britain is sure to send.

All Are Safe in Jail.

MOMENCE, Ill., Jan. 21.—The chief development here in the attempted robbery of the Exchange bank was the written confession of William Schoff, one of the three men arrested. He implicates two men, Weed S. Love and Mulligan O'Brien. They are both residents of this place, and are tough characters. The former has served a term in the Arkansas state prison. Schoff has heretofore been a fairly respectable resident. The robbers had all their plans thoroughly matured. If they had succeeded in breaking the vault of the bank, which is said to have contained in the neighborhood of $150,000, the money was to have been "planted" in the cornice of a new house which is being built by Will Schoff. The three robbers were to have separated, having agreed to divide the spoils six weeks later. The men will be brought back to Momence for preliminary examination early this week.

Insane Man's Frightful Crime.

INDEPENDENCE, Ia., Jan. 21.—Yesterday morning Charles Anderson cut his own and his wife's throat. Anderson is dead and his wife can not live. Anderson is a general merchant, aged 60 years, and had recently had trouble over some farm property that unbalanced him.

DEATHS IN CHICAGO
FROM THE STORMTWO MEN STRUCK DOWN IN THE STREETS.

Timbers Blown From the Top of a Twelve Story Building Fell Ten People—Wind Is Blowing Sixty Miles An Hour and Razing Buildings.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—The wind is blowing sixty miles an hour today. Two men were killed and eight seriously injured by timbers blown from the top of a twelve-story building in the course of construction. Several buildings were blown down in different parts of the city. SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 21.—Robert Perry, a stage driver, was drowned between Posters and Ramona while trying to ford Santa Marie creek, and Joseph Santo was drowned while attempting to rescue cattle in San Digneto creek. Trains were abandoned on the Santa Fe last night and serious washouts are reported on all lines. Floods on the Tia Juana. Otay and Sweetwater are even greater than apprehended. The Tia Juana is still a torrent three miles wide. Damage in Mission valley is appalling and indications are favorable for a continuance of the storm.

THE WEEK IN WASHINGTON

Public Building Bills Will Be Settled Some Time This Week.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The prospect in the senate this week is for more talk than accomplishment. When the senate adjourned Saturday the senate's attitude toward Hawaii, the proposed recession from the senate amendments to the income tax appropriation, and the Nicaragua bill all occupied in the different ways, technically considered, the position of unfinished business. The income tax question will have the right of way by virtue of its being a part of an appropriation bill. The Hawaiian question will, in all probability, be considered in the morning hour to-day, if not crowded out by the debate on the income tax. There are known to be several senators anxious to express their views on the Hawaiian problem, and, judging from their private expressions, the remarks to be made will, in some instances, be very pointed. Senator Hill is also expected to stand out for his income tax amendment. The Nicaragua question still holds its place at the head of the calendar for consideration daily after 2 o'clock. Senator Morgan is still hopeful of securing a vote on this bill before the close of the week, but if there should be many interruptions he may again be disappointed. Senator Turpie has the floor for a reply to Senator Morgan, and is expected to make one of his characteristic speeches. There will also be other addresses on this subject before the vote is finally taken. The friends of the bankruptcy and territorial admission bills are growing anxious concerning the fate of those measures and are beginning to be apprehensive that time may not be left for their consideration if the Nicaragua bill be not soon disposed of. The present prospect is against a revival of the financial and currency question in the senate during the week, but much will depend upon the action of the committee on finance at its meeting Tuesday and also upon the attitude of the house of representatives.

BUSY IN THE HOUSE.

Currency Question Will Still Be the Bone of Contention.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—This promises to be a busy and important week in the house. The program as arranged for the week may be subject to change in case Mr. Springer, chairman of the committee on banking and currency, decides before the end of the week to bring forward his new measure. He has been in constant consultation with Secretary Carlisle for the last week, and is extremely sanguine that concessions can be made to the silver men which will induce them to withdraw their opposition. Yesterday he expressed the opinion that he would bring forward the modified bill this week and that it would pass. This opinion, however, is not generally shared by the democratic leaders of the house, most of whom do not hesitate to say that they believe all hope of currency legislation at this session is dead. It is also possible that the resolution for the impeachment of Judge Ricks may be before the house before the end of the week, but the fact that the committee on judiciary decided Friday to reopen the case is interpreted to mean a delay which will render any attempt to push the case against him at this session abortive. Next Saturday by a special order will be set aside for eulogies on the late Senator Alfred H. Colquitt of Georgia. It is not improbable that Mr. Boutelle will attempt to secure consideration of his Hawaiian resolution and thus a debate on this subject be precipitated in some form.

Public Building Bills.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The program arranged by the committee on rules before the departure of Speaker Crisp for Asheville, N. C., last night (where he expects to remain a week or more) contemplates the consideration of the public building bills on the calendar to be followed by the Indian appropriation bill now under consideration.

the sundry civil and the agricultural appropriation bills. Public buildings in many parts of the country, including Chicago and New York, will also have their fate settled early in the week.

DEATH FOUND IN THE RIVER.

Body of the Treasurer Is Recovered—Murder Is Evident.

O'NEIL, Neb., Jan. 21.—The search of the last three weeks by the friends of Barrett Scott for his body has been rewarded and the waters of the Niobrara river have given up the dead. The body was found Saturday night at 9:15 in the Niobrara near Whiting's Bridge, about thirty miles north of this city. The posse which discovered the body started out from this city Friday morning and went at once to the Niobrara river fully equipped to search the bottom of the river for the missing man. While exploring the bottom of the river on the north side one of the searchers struck some object with his grappling hook. He at once called to his assistance some of the others and loosened the corpse from the sand in the bottom of the river. As soon as it was moved it at once came to the surface and was taken out upon the ice. Where the body was found there was about six feet of water, over which was eighteen inches of ice.

Around the neck of the murdered man was a half-inch rope. There were also bruises upon his head, where he was doubtless struck, possibly with the butt of a revolver. In his pocket was his gold watch, which was stopped at 12:01. This, it is thought by many, is when Scott's body was thrown into the river and that the watch stopped as soon as he struck the water, although there was no water found inside the case. Both hands were tied behind his back, and from the looks of the body he evidently underwent considerable torture before his murderers killed him.

The crime for which Barrett Scott paid his life was the embezzlement of $70,000 of the funds of Holt county and the subsequent wrecking of the Holt County bank, practically impoverishing nearly all of the farmers and business men in Holt. The amounts stolen aggregate about $169,000.

As the body was found upon the north side of the river in Boyd county the coroner of that county was sent for. He arrived about 7 o'clock in the morning and held an inquest. A verdict of wilful murder was returned by the coroner's jury and George D. Mullihan, Moses Elliot, and Mert Roy, and sundry other persons to the jurors unknown are implicated.

Intense excitement prevails in the city, large delegations being present from towns in different parts of the county, and trouble is feared. Several hundred residents of this city viewed the remains yesterday as they were in the undertaking rooms of O. F. Biglin, and on all sides were heard men of this city denouncing the cowardly crime and perpetrators, and they are sure to meet just punishment for their crime. It will be remembered that Elliot, Mullihan and Roy were arrested two weeks ago for complicity in this crime and waived examination and were placed under $500 bonds to appear at the next term of court. They will be rearrested upon the charge of murder.

YUNG CHING BAY FORTS FALL.

Captured by the Japanese Forces in a Snowstorm.

CHEE FOO, Jan. 21.—Yesterday morning thirty-five Japanese transports, each towing a couple of junks, and fifteen war ships arrived in Yung Ching bay south of the Chan Tung promontory. At daylight three of the war ships engaged the shore defenses, silencing them after a dozen rounds. There was no further opposition and the Japanese landed, it is estimated, 25,000 troops. The landing was effected during a heavy snow storm. Yung Ching is 300 miles from Wei-Hai-Wei.

TIEN TSIN, Jan. 21.—A Japanese force has landed at Yung Ching Bay. Forty Japanese ships passed the Shan Tunk promontory to-day. A British squadron has been cruising in the vicinity for a week past.

Arrangements on a Grand Scale.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 21.—Arrangements for the national convention of manufacturers here this week are elaborate. The original fund of $140,000 has been doubled. Over 1,200 delegates have written that they will be here. While it is proposed to open up commerce with the South American republics, yet all interests of manufacturers will be considered.

To Help the Miners in Want.

CANTON, Ohio, Jan. 21.—A mass meeting was held here yesterday to provide relief to the suffering miners. A committee was appointed for a general canvass of the city and for the opening of a depot for supplies. Work for the relief of the sufferers will now be carried on in earnest. There were on the list 150 names, representing 750 people.

Ruinous Fire Is Set by Thieves.

NEGAUNEE, Mich., Jan. 21.—The large mercantile store owned by T. M. Wells, doing business in one of the oldest and largest buildings in the city, in fact one of the pioneer buildings and owned by the old Iron Cliffs company, was destroyed by fire between 5 and 6 o'clock yesterday morning, together with the entire stock, valued at between $20,000 and $25,000. That it was of incendiary origin there is no doubt, as at the time the fire was in progress several business places were robbed.

WORK IN MADISON
NOW UNDER WAYFENNER KIMBALL'S BILL MUCH DISCUSSED.

Limit of Taxation in Cities Raised to Three Per Cent.—Milwaukee Is Alarmed at the Prospect—But One Bill Reported Back From the Committee.

MADISON, June 21.—Much solid work will be done by the legislature this week. So far but few bills have been reported back from the committees and but one has passed either house.

One Janesville bill, that endorsed by Mr. Kimball, is attracting considerable attention. It authorizes the common council in any city to levy any tax annually provided the total municipal, county, state and all taxes shall not exceed 3 per cent of the assessed value of real and personal property. This extends the limit, and the statement is made in Milwaukee that it will be undoubtedly met with a great deal of opposition as it would permit of the raising, with the special ward taxes, of an almost unlimited amount of taxes in the large cities.

INSURANCE AT STAKE.

Coroner Hughes of San Francisco Says a Brother Approached Him.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 21.—Coroner Hughes makes some sensational charges against Dr. Martin Regensberger, one of the city's most prominent physicians. The coroner charges that Regensberger offered him $400 if the jury which investigated the death of the late Charles Kohler would find that death was accidental.

Kohler was a wealthy wine merchant and was found dead in a Turkish bath establishment not long ago. He carried $125,000 insurance on his life, which his heirs could not collect if he had committed suicide. There were symptoms of morphine poisoning and it was known Kohler had been on a debauch. Regensberger is the family physician and Hughes said the offer was on behalf of the Kohler family. Hughes says he spurned the offer. Regensberger says he made no such offer and that the charge is preposterous. The jury found that Kohler's death was accidental.

LIABILITIES OF $2,011,000.

Statement of Failed Commercial Bank of St. John's, N. F.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Jan. 21.—The statement of the Commercial bank shows liabilities of $2,011,000 and assets of $1,468,000, less a preferential payment of $410,000 to be made to the Savings bank.

The difficulty of feeding the hungry is daily becoming greater. Representatives of all the city clergy have decided to issue an appeal to the world for help. The government will adjourn the legislature on Monday. No measure dealing with the destitution has been adopted, the present financial difficulties preventing any action.

SUES FOR HALF A MILLION.

New Zealander Says His Attorney Committed With His Wife.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 21.—William Atkinson, a wool grower, who came to Colorado from New Zealand, has begun suits against Edwin G. Jellicoe for damages amounting to nearly $555,000. Atkinson alleges that Jellicoe, who was his attorney in New Zealand, acted in collusion with his wife, enabling her to obtain a divorce and a judgment against him for $51,000. Jellicoe then followed Atkinson to Colorado and sued him for over five thousand dollars fees.

To Protect Old Soldiers.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 21.—The divekeepers in the vicinity of the Soldiers' home have become so bold recently in their operations and there have been so many complaints of robbery from old soldiers that Gov. Wheeler of the home has asked Sheriff Stanley for deputies to protect his men.

Mexico Demands an Answer.

GUATEMALA, Jan. 21.—The last note received from Mexico is in the nature of an ultimatum, and demands an immediate answer. The under current of opinion is that Mexico is right and will not brook longer delays.

Burglars Kill a City Marshal.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 21.—Yesterday morning at 3 o'clock burglars effected an entrance to the postoffice at Osawatomie, Kan., by cutting a pane out of the rear door. The safe was then blown open by an explosive. City Marshal James H. Helms attempted to arrest the thieves and was shot and killed. The murderers escaped. The city marshal leaves a wife and several children.

Calls on the Troops.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 21.—Col. Gaither telegraphed the state guard here yesterday to be in readiness to move at once, forty strong. He did not say what was wanted of the militia, and the officers have no idea what they are going to do.

Break Through the Ice and Drown.

FORT MADISON, Iowa, Jan. 21.—George Crossley, Elsie Hughes and Myrtle Townsend broke through the ice and were drowned a couple of miles above this city yesterday.

PILE OF OLD STAMPS BLOCK THE MAILS

JANESVILLE GIRLSAID A KANEVILLE DAMSEL.

Edna Brown's "Wheels" Whir So Loudly That the Whole Postal Service Is Disturbed—The Stages Cannot Carry Half Of Her Letters.

Janesville's young ladies were caught in the Kaneville stamp game exposed by yesterday's Chicago papers. A few days ago several of them received letters from a girl signing herself Miss Edna R. Brown. She says there is a hospital in Kaneville and a crippled girl living in that town will be given treatment provided 5,000,000 canceled stamps can be obtained. She requests that the recipient of the letter send her three stamps and write three letters, asking friends to do so. Since she evolved that idea no one in Kaneville has had a minute's peace and the town is becoming one of the best known in the country although it is the kind of a cross roads settlement that always springs up where a blacksmith shop is built. There is no such person as Edna Brown, but the letters reach Kaneville just the same. "Brown" and "Kaneville" have become synonyms with the postal clerks.

She Has Changed Her Name.

There was once a Miss Edna Brown in Kaneville. She lives there yet, but was induced to change her name by a young blacksmith named Garman with whose shop the town began, and who has a crippled sister. Miss Garman is in her teens and has been a cripple from childhood. Miss Garman was always considered an inoffensive sort of a person until this brilliant idea seized upon her. No one ever expected she would "set the river on fire," supposing that Kaneville had a river, much less did they anticipate she would set the town by the ears and make it name a household word throughout the length and breadth of the country.

Letters In Wagon Loads.

But she has. Kaneville is situated nine miles northwest of Aurora. The nearest railroad station is Sugar Grove, five miles south. In the whole thirty-six square miles comprising the township there are perhaps thirty houses, and twenty-five letters a day would be a big mail. The Kaneville mail is sent to Sugar Grove by train and from there is taken to the post office by stage twice a day. A few days ago the postmaster began to receive a good many letters for Edna Brown. His surprise soon deepened into astonishment, his astonishment into consternation and his consternation into despair. The letters soon filled a bushel basket daily. Then they filled several baskets. Then the stage coach became so crowded with mail bags that there was no room for passengers. The postmaster was obliged to hire an assistant to help handle the stuff, and all for $250 a year. He receives, sorts and delivers from 15,000 to 20,000 letters a day for Edna Brown and has to answer from fifteen to twenty each day asking him if Edna was all right. Three million and over have been received and the end is not yet.

Minister Mixed Up In It.

Someone wrote to the minister asking him what kind of wheels Edna's were. He answered that there was no medical institute in Kaneville and no crippled girl. He further explained that Miss Brown had been receiving thousands of letters under such misrepresentation and she had collected millions of stamps. What she wanted with them no one knew, the holy man averred. They seemed to him to be of no earthly value.

"I got a letter from Miss Edna," explained one Second ward girl, "and I at once hunted up all the old letters in the house and sent the stamps to her. I didn't think there could be anything wrong about it."

"I got a letter too," said another girl, but papa told me that the whole thing was a fake and that cancelled stamps are of no use or value to any one."

In the meantime the government is getting about $300 a day in postage or letters addressed to Edna Brown, Kaneville, Ill.

A Common Mistake.

The greatest mistake one makes is to doubt the prices a good reliable merchant names on his goods through the columns of the newspapers. As little as you can do is to convince yourself. We have some prices in this issue. Come and see if we can produce the goods; take home and examine, and if not as represented, return and get your money.

THIS SEASON'S LEAF ALL DOWN TODAY

LOCAL DEALERS THINK IT OF INFERIOR QUALITY.

Weather Was Not Right; The Leaves Are Long and Narrow and Some Of It Cured In the Field—Damp Weather Makes the Farmers Glad.

Three quarters of Rock county's '94 tobacco is off the poles and in the stripping rooms. That means sales and sales mean money.

Sunday's rain did it. When the honest farmer arose from his bed and saw drops of moisture pendant from every bush and tree, his heart was glad for he knew that "stripping time" had come at last and that the nut brown leaf would soon be "in core." Soon smoke would curl from the chimney of the stripping room and in many cases the whole family would soon be employed in pulling the leaves from the stalks and putting the tobacco in bundles.

The next question that came to his mind was: "How much a pound can I get for my crop?" but the reflection could not be a pleasant one according to the statement of a local dealer whose opinion is very good authority. "The leaf crop is not a good one this year," he said last night. "This is not only true of Rock county but of the whole country as well. The leaves are long and narrow and the drouth was so long continued that some of the leaf fairly cured in the fields. It is not good tobacco as a whole although there are some good crops in the country. I do not think that there will be much packing by dealers of the crop of '94. The majority of them will prefer to let the growers handle it himself and sell it by the case according to grade.

Farmers are Up to Snuff.

"As it is now there are two kinds hanging on the poles in the sheds. The early crop is made up of small and narrow leaves. The later crop is better, but when the buyer comes to look into the shed, he will find that the growers many of them at least, will not have the poor stuff displayed as well as the better goods. He might buy a crop that appeared good and then find that enough of it was not up to grade to knock off all the profit on the purchase. On the other hand, if he lets the grower handle his own crop he can buy it when it must grade up right. Last year was a bad one for tobacco and the grower and dealer will suffer alike thereby.

"Damp weather has come late this year. Usually the tobacco can be taken down in December; and in fact some of it was this year, but most of it has had to hang until now. I do not see where any money can be made on it. There is no money in cheap goods for the dealer. Fine crops are profitable, but I am afraid that fine crops will be few and far between this year. Of course things may not be as bad as they look, but in my judgment the situation is about as I have outlined it. About the only rain we got was the three days preceding the June rains, and after that the heat was intense.

WILL NOT MAKE MAIL CLERKS MOVE

Protests Have Been So General that Legislative Action May Follow.

Janesville mail clerks do not expect to be compelled to move in order to comply with the regulation that all clerks must live on their routes, as the many complaints that have been made promises to find a response in legislation by congress on the subject. An attempt was made in the house when the postoffice appropriation bill was up, by Representative Cooper and others to get a change in the law to protect clerks who have established homes and who cannot move without suffering considerable pecuniary loss. But the attempt failed in the lower body. Senator Davis of Minnesota has submitted an amendment which will be proposed when the appropriation bill comes up in that body, providing that all clerks hereafter appointed on the railway mail service shall reside at some point on the route on which they are employed, but clerks heretofore appointed shall not be required to change their residence. This amendment was drawn by Representative Cooper and it has the support of Senator Vilas, who is chairman of the senate committee on post-offices and post roads. It is believed that the amendment will go through.

Before a Full Head of Steam

Is gathered by that tremendously destructive engine, malaria, put on the breaks with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will check its progress and avert disaster. Chills and fever, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake are promptly relieved and ultimately cured by this genial specific, which is also a comprehensive family medicine, speedily useful in case of dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, sick headache, nervousness, rheumatism and neuralgia. Against the hurtful effects of sudden changes of temperature, exposure in hot weather, close application to laborious mental pursuits, it is the most trustworthy safeguard. It fortifies the system against disease, promotes appetite and sleep, and hastens convalescence after debilitating and flesh wasting diseases.

QUEEN PENALTY JANE.

Oh, Penalty Jane!
Of suggestive name;
Of swirling tail,
And jet black mane!

Thou art a beast
Of wide renown;
A credit to the,
And to thy town!

Thou wert too slow
For Ethel J.
But 'twasn't thy fault:
'Twas not thy day.

The man who drove thee
Had all the skill,
His error was fatal;
He kept too still.

He should have said
"Now, mind your head!"
"Whoa, girl!" "Steady!"
Now don't drop dead!"

This is the talk
That makes thee speed
When to whip and reins
You give no heed.

Thro' thy veins
Good blood must flow;
Why shouldn't thy owner
About thee crow?

Thou shouldst hold thy head
Full high 'tis said
For thou art a queen
Mid the lowly bred.

And well thou may
Be proud and gay
Art thou not the boss
Of Monterey?

CONCORDIA invitation ball and party tomorrow night at their hall; the best society event of the season.

The finest six-piece chamber set, highly decorated, one ever saw $2.85 at the Fair's removal sale.

SMITH's full orchestra will furnish the music for the dance at the Burns anniversary next Friday evening.

The cloth in the pants now being sold for $2.00 at 7 & 9 S. River street can not be bought for any such money.

Don't forget the masquerade at the skating rink Tuesday night. Fun for all. Huyke's band will furnish music.

We are not giving goods away, but we are sacrificing them so as to dispose of the bulk before we move. The Fair.

CHINAWARE, crockery, glassware and all kinds of dishes away down before we move. See prices in large ad. The Fair.

We are bound to close out all our winter cloaks. If you don't believe it, come and see the prices we offer them at. T. P. Burns.

THE Concordias never half entertain; what they do, they do well, and their party tomorrow night will be no exception to their established rule.

Not a pair of pants in the whole lot at 7 & 9 S. River street, that cost wholesale less than $3.50 and you can take your choice for $2.00. Frank Baack.

TUESDAY night will be Concordia night Smith's orchestra has been engaged and a jolly time is the word each member has adopted. They will try and entertain their guests royally.

We have some bread on exhibition baked from "Jersey Lily," "Corner Stone" and "Cream" and some bread baked from some of the other brands now being offered you around town. Stop in and see the difference. Dunn Bros.

It is quite a novel sight to watch the number of people go into Frank Kimball's furniture store every Saturday evening from 5 to 9:30. All are going there and making a weekly payment on some article they bought on Kimball's great easy payment system.

Do not forget that the next social dance of the series to be given by the Concordia society takes place on Tuesday evening of this week. Smith's orchestra will play, and those who have received invitations to previous parties will be made welcome.

The one hundred and thirty-sixth anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns, Scotland's favorite bard, will be duly celebrated in Janesville next Friday evening at the Armory. The programme is the best ever offered, and the attendance, as usual, will be large.

Flower Ghosts.

Anyone who wishes to see the ghost of a flower has only to make a very simple experiment. Let him go up to a cluster of blossoms and look very intently for several minutes at one side of it. Then very suddenly he must turn his gaze upon the other side of the same cluster. He will at once distinctly see a faint and delicate circle of colored light around this second half of the cluster. The light is always in the hue which is "complementary" to that of the flower. The specter of the scarlet poppy is of a greenish white. The ghost of the primrose is purple. The ghost of the blue primrose is of a pale gold tint. In these circles of color the shapes of the flower's petals are always faintly but clearly seen.

She Forget the Watchdog.

The umbrella of a Catholic penitent was stolen while she was at confession. She went with the story to Cardinal Wiseman, hoping probably to obtain compensation. The only consolation she got from the cardinal was this: "My child, I am sorry for you; but the scripture tells us to watch as well as pray."

BELOIT HAS A FIRE THAT COSTS $25,000

GEORGE CLARKE'S DRY GOODS STORE DESTROYED.

Loss Almost Total, and There Is Some Doubt About Whether The Insurance Can Be Collected—Ashes Were Kept In the Cellar.

Beloit had another destructive fire Sunday night. Not long ago there was a loss of $50,000 and now comes a $25,000 loss to top it off. George Clarke's dry goods store, one of the biggest stores in the city, is in ruins and very little of its contents have been saved.

The fire broke out about 8 o'clock in the evening. The building is new, two stories high, and stands opposite the Goodwin house. It is of red pressed brick and the valuation placed on it was about $15,000. The amount of stock destroyed was not less than $10,000. A telephone message from Beloit says there may be difficulty in collecting any insurance as ashes were stored in the cellar.

Shurtleff's Bakery Scorched.

G. A. Shurtleff's bakery, on Park street, nearly opposite the jail, was slightly damaged by fire Sunday morning between 9 and 10 o'clock. An overheated stove had started a fire in the ceiling and the building was filled with smoke, but the firemen soon found the fire and extinguished it with chemicals. The loss will not exceed five dollars, unless the smoke damaged the stock. Mr. Shurtleff was fully insured.

A defective lamp did considerable damage to the home of Ex-Sheriff Bear, South Main street, Saturday evening.

The overturning of a stove damaged the furniture of Thomas McLernan, Holmes street, about twenty dollars, last week.

Alarm Box Useless in a Crisis.

Fire shot up over the top of C. E. Peirce's house this morning and set neighbors to calling for help. Will Watt passed up Court street on the hurricane deck of the American Express wagon, and was implored to turn in an alarm. The nearest box was at E. F. Carpenter's corner, and to this corner the express horse was sent at a gallop. The key was secured, but every attempt to open the box failed. Plumbers at work across the street saw there was trouble, and ran over with a pair of pliers. Even these failed and, what was worse, the stem of the key snapped.

There was no more hope from that box, and Will jumped into his wagon and started the horse on a dead run down town. He got no further than the Christ church corner, however, for there he was stopped and told that the fire was in a chimney, and had been got n under control.

Chief Spencer accounts for the trouble in opening the box by saying that small boys have made trouble in several parts of town by filling key holes with mud. Many do not understand, however, that the alarm boxes unlock when the key is turned one quarter around. After the key goes that far it can turn no farther and is locked in place.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1569—Miles Coverdale, translator of the Bible, died; born 1487.

1743—John Fitch, inventor of the steamboat, born in Windsor, Conn.; died 1798. Fitch was originally a brass founder and silversmith. His experiments in applying steam power to navigation extended from 1783 to 1790. In the last named year he placed a boat upon the Delaware river which made seven miles an hour. His enterprises yielded no profit, and he died in poverty.

1793—Louis XVI was guillotined; born 1754.

1813—John Charles Fremont, soldier, senator and explorer, born in Savannah; died 1890.

1821—John Cabell Breckinridge, senator, vice president and soldier, born; died in 1875.

1824—Thomas Jonathan Jackson, "Stonewall," born in Clarksburg, W. Va.; died 1863.

1892—The National Surgical Institute burned at Indianapolis; 19 inmates perished.

1893—An oil tank on a wrecked train exploded at Alton, Ills.; 21 killed, 100 injured.

WHY GOLD IS VANISHING.

The treasury report on foreign commerce for the calendar year 1894 furnished matter for some transient pessimistic comment. The record shows the effect of the foreign distrust excited by our silver legislation of 1890 more strikingly than the returns of any of the three preceding years during which the Sherman Act had been in operation. For the two fiscal years 1890-1 and 1891-2 combined, the foreign commercial movement, including that of gold and silver, showed an excess of exports over imports amounting to 330 millions, or an average per year of 165 millions. Taking the amount needed for payments of interest and dividends at the usually estimated sum of 100 millions per year, it follows that the balance of 65 millions went to pay for returned securities or to settle withdrawn credits. For the past year, we had a net trade balance of 181 millions in our favor and yet made a net export of gold amounting to 81 millions, leaving 262 millions to be accounted for. Assuming 100 millions of that sum to have gone in the payment of dividends and interest, the remaining 162 millions will represent our liquidations of various forms of foreign financial indebtedness, such as securities sent home, real estate mortgages, banking and other running balances, the owners of which preferred to withdraw from use here. With the foregoing figures covering three and one-half years, it is easy to see how, during the 4 years for which the silver act of 1890 has been in operation we may have been driven into the liquidation of fully 350 millions of the principal of our various forms of debt to foreign countries.

There can be little question about the cause of these immense withdrawals of capital in Europe. In the main, it signifies that our foreign creditors have become distrustful of our ability to save ourselves from drifting upon the silver basis. Their fear is not so much about the possibility of our taking care of such silver money as we at present have. It is there that the silver faction, which has shown its ability to force on the country already 500 millions of wheat are virtually fifty cent dollars, and that it may still retain force enough to yet further increase those issues indefinitely; and they say that we have no satisfactory assurances to the contrary to advance—but hopes only, which, it is claimed, find little backing in the present phases of federal politics. In all this there is a great deal of exaggeration of the worst features of our case, and perhaps little disposition to give due credit for the certainty with which we always ultimately correct our blunders; but the fact nevertheless is that our critics choose to take their own view of the matter, and their opinions can be changed only by some sort of conclusive demonstration that no further issues of silver money in the United States are possible.

Fifty thousand dollars' worth of food and supplies went from Atlanta, New Orleans and Mobile, to the Nebraska sufferers last week. Nothing that the south could do would do more to cement the feeling of friendship between that section and the west, and nothing else would so impress the country with the blessings that the south this year enjoys in the abundance of its supply of grain and provisions.

No Janesville organization has done as much for the city in the last ten years as the Business Men's Association. That it has been of less importance for a year or two is not strange. The enterprises of these years were not such as called for concerted action. At any time, however, occasion may arise when its help will be essential. It forms a convenient rallying point in emergencies, a nucleus for the progressive spirit of the town, and it should not be allowed to pass away. Tonight's meeting should be well attended.

The last two days of wet weather did much to improve Janesville's business prospects. Tobacco can now be handled and thousands of dollars will be set free. As is always the case the man who uses The Weekly Gazette to tell country people what bargains he is offering will get the lion's share of the trade.

VERY SENSITIVE.

But the Spick and Span Young Man Made a Mistake.

A man I know is telling with a great deal of delight a story which he declared actually happened in his presence, on a train between Chicago and Kansas City recently. A young man and a young woman entered the day coach at Chicago. They were both very spick and span, and the young man's spick and spanness was of the sort than cannot be overlooked. He had a new silk hat, a new top coat, a chrysanthemum in his buttonhole, and the air of one who knows it all. He had been in the car only a short time when his sensitive nostrils began to dilate with disgust. He looked about him suspiciously and he called the conductor.

"Conductor, conductor," he said languidly, "there's a person in this car smoking a cigar. It is a horrid cigar, one of the sort, I fancy, you can buy five for a cent. It is very offensive to me and I must ask you to have the person removed."

The conductor looked all around, but no cigar was to be seen. The smell was unmistakable. Just then a man in the next seat reached up and took the dapper young man's silk hat down from the hat rack. There on the curling brim was a spark from some stray cinder which had burned a track nearly half way round the hat. "Nobody said a word, but when the young woman innocently remarked: 'It wasn't such a bad cigar after all, was it?' everybody within hearing felt that the first coolness of the honeymoon had been inaugurated."

A QUESTION OF CZ AND TS.

How the Title of the Emperor of Russia Should Be Spelled.

Mention of the Parisian controversy on the Russian emperor's title has brought out several communications on the same subject. One writer says: "The initial letter in Russian is a double letter representing 'Ts,' and the title in our characters should be spelled tsar. I may mention that his wife's title is tsaritsa and not czarina, and that of his eldest son tsarevich, the others sons being called tsarevich." Another correspondent writes: "The first letter in the emperor's title is the twenty-third in the Russian alphabet. It has invariably the sound which in English would be most accurately rendered by 'Ts.' The second letter is equivalent to our 'A,' the third to our 'R,' and there is a final semi-mute letter, which may, perhaps, be disregarded. The Russian pronunciation of the word is, therefore, 'ts-a-r.' How the general English custom of employing 'Cz' in the word arose it would be difficult to say, for the Russian letters, 'Cz' are used initially in only two or three words in the whole language. They are never employed, however, in 'tsar' or any of its derivatives. There is no 'czarina' in Russian. The word is 'tsaritsa,' with the accent on the second syllable. The fact that the Empress Catherine, the Emperor Paul, and other Russians have used the form 'czar' when writing in a foreign language can hardly justify its use when 'Cz' does not convey the original sound of our 'Ts' in that language."

Interstate Commerce Hearing.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 21.—Congressman W. R. Morris of Illinois, J. D. Youmans of Iowa, and Martin Knapp of New York, members of the interstate commerce commission arrived here last night from Minneapolis, and will begin the hearing of the case of the Milwaukee chamber of commerce against the Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota railroads this morning. Gerry W. Hazelton and E. P. Bacon will have charge of the case of the chamber of commerce.

Revolution in Sight in Guatemala.

QUEZALTENANGO, Guatemala, Jan. 21.—President Barrios is likely to have to cope with insurgents before many days. Gen. Miron, the commander of the troops here has again tendered his resignation because he is unable to quell the disorder. The troops are so badly paid he cannot rely upon them, and it is believed that there will be a revolution soon.

Philadelphia En Route for Hawaii.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 21.—The flagship Philadelphia left here for Honolulu at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, but it is expected she will make the run to the islands in about six days. Another boat carries 2,000 stand of arms and about 75,000 rounds of ammunition that are being shipped to representatives of the Dole government.

MARZLUFF WON'T PAY FOR THE BERG STOCK

REFUSES TO ACCEPT A ROCKFORD LINE OF SHOES.

There Was a Disagreement As to Conditions—"A Summer Blizzard" Disbands in Beloit—Brief Bits of Bower City News Put in Shape For Busy Readers.

F. M. MARZLUFF has declined to accept the Berg shoe stock which he bid in a few days ago in Rockford. There were points that were not as represented, and it was impossible for him to dispose of the stock to advantage. He has notified the Rockford assignee to that effect. The Register-Gazette says: "If he persists in his course the sale will have to be readvertised and the stock sold again. Marzluff will have to pay the cost of advertising and also any shortage which may exist between his bid at the first sale and the successful one at the second. It is a matter for regret that the litigation should be thus protracted."

The Fair department store will soon have to vacate their present quarters, as W. G. Palmer, formerly of the drug firm of Palmer & Stevens, will open a drugstore there March 1. Mr. Coon, the proprietor of The Fair, has as fine a line of chinaware, crockery, glassware and fancy dishes as one ever saw. It is almost impossible to move it without serious loss through breakage, so Mr. Coon has commenced a removal sale; everything is marked away down, and the ladies will find it greatly to their advantage to attend this sale now in progress.

MISS HATTIE COLLIER is praised by Freeport papers for her musical skill. The Journal says: "The Enbury M. E. church choir under her direction is preparing an elaborate musical program for next Sunday evening. This choir has made remarkable progress under Miss Collier and no doubt there will be a large audience to hear the special selections."

MISS CORNELIA HARLOWE has won marked success in her Freeport business college. Freeport papers speak of her work in very complimentary terms. She graduated a pupil last week who had completed a course in bookkeeping, shorthand and typewriting in 87 days.

DR. E. D. ROBERTS'S RIVAL MAY FAIL
State Veterinarian's Position May Not Go to Scott of Beaver Dam.

Dr. E. D. Roberts's friends are watching with lively interest the fight which is being waged on the appointment of Dr. J. B. Scott as state veterinarian. It is an interesting fact that his name was not sent to the senate Saturday and rumor has it that it never will be. Dr. Scott is a son-in-law of Andrew Willard, the Beaver Dam banker, and the latter was one of the bondsmen of ex-State Treasurer E. C. McFeteridge. Herein lies the secret of Mr. Scott's appointment. It was gained through the ex-state's treasurer's influence under pressure from Mr. Willard, so the unkind people say, and it is claimed that the genial "Ed" has made an awful break by the play.

A delegation of Dodge county citizens visited the governor yesterday to protest against the appointment, and among the allegations which they charge is that Dr. Scott has not resided in the United States long enough to be a citizen of this nation. They are also unkind enough to claim that it was Dr. Scott's original intention to be a democrat, and that when his first naturalization papers were taken out, Senator "Mike" Burke bossed the job.

N. O. W. MASQUERADE FEB. 5.
Seventh Annual Merry-making Of The Popular Janesville Organization.

The seventh annual masquerade of the N. O. W. Club will be held at the Light Infantry Armory, Tuesday evening, February 5. Great preparations are being made by many Janesville young people.

The annual masquerade balls of this club are looked forward to with great pleasure. They are among the most entertaining and unique of any ever given in the city and judging from the fine costumes that are now being prepared the patrons will have a merry time. Smith's full orchestra will furnish the music, and all invitations will be presented at the door. The price of tickets for gentlemen will be 50 cents and ladies 25 cents.

WANTED WILCOX CASE DROPPED

J. W. Bates Moves That the Proceeding Be Dropped by Judge Bennett.

Attorney J. W. Bates made a motion today to dismiss the action of the Second National Bank of Beloit against C. T. Wilcox, garnishee of L. G. Walkley, on the ground that the case had not been brought to trial before the second term of court after appeal, and because not properly noticed for trial. Judge Bennett continued the case until the April term. The case involves a note for which judgment had been rendered.

SHALL THE B. M. A. BE MAINTAINED?

Question Will Be Decided By Members at Tonight's Meeting.

Members of the Business Men's Association hold their annual meeting tonight. President Vankirk urges a full attendance as some decision must be reached concerning the future of the association. Much good has been done in the past and may be done in the future but the association cannot live without funds and dollars are scarcer in the treasury just now than chicken's teeth in soft-boiled eggs.

KIMBALL'S BILL FOR CITY TAXATION

Raises the Limit to Three Per Cent of the Assessed Valuation.

Hon. Fenner Kimball's bill on taxation is being discussed throughout the state. It takes effect everywhere though it is a Janesville bill and was drafted with only this city in view. The bill allows cities to raise a tax of three per cent on the assessed value of all the real and personal property. It applies to all cities whether under charter or not and raises the limit by a considerable amount.

NEW WEST SIDE DRUGSTORE.

W. G. and H. L. Palmer To Take the "Fair's" Location.

If the fire Sunday in Grubb's home made bakery had been more serious than it was, the people would again be paying the old prices for bread.

New bread customers every day. We are sometimes surprised at the number we get, but then when we think it over, it is perfectly plain, as we are making the best bread ever sold in this city, and as flour is very low we have put bread on an equal basis. All we ask is a trial of our bread as we know you will afterward eat no other. Grubb Bros.

SNOW DOWN THE NECK OF A CHILLY PUBLIC

BLIZZARD MAKES JANESVILLE PEOPLE SHIVER.

Trains On Time Most Of The Day But Superintendent Proudfoot Is Glad The Forest Park Express Has Been Withdrawn—The Storm Is General.

Rare, medium or well done? No matter what kind of storm was wanted it could be had in the last forty-eight hours.

It didn't improve a bit as time went on. When people got ready to go to church Sunday morning they needed ice creepers quite as much as they did hymn books to preserve a dignified presence. A few hours later mackintoshes and rubber boots were in demand. The day closed with a drizzle so thick that electric lights hardly could be seen.

Then the wind came.

It was stiff enough to break down fences, rip the limbs off trees and one gust that whisked around the corner of Bluff street and Prospect avenue actually took the top off an electric light pole. To be sure the weight of an electric light helped a good deal. It swung back and forth like a great pendulum and finally the pole snapped and the guy wire dropped into the middle of the road. Had anybody wandered out in the storm and struck that wire there might have been trouble, but nobody cared to leave the house for so slight an inducement.

Rain turned to snow this forenoon, but people had the comfort of knowing that however severe the blizzard might be, it was not a Manitoba blizzard but a zephyr from the balmy highlands of Colorado. Still nobody had any doubt about its being a blizzard. They could find proof in the dipperfuls of snow they dug out from under their collars. There was fresh evidence in the frost on their whiskers and the ice-covered sidewalks also helped.

Trains haven't suffered much during the day. None were behind time on the C. & N. W. or the C. M. & St. P. Railroad men expect lively times tomorrow, however, as the storm is raging throughout the northwest.

Superintendent Proudfoot smiled every time he heard the wind howl during the day. The Forest Park express no longer had to "make time."

It will be two months before a new crank pin can be put in place and the street cars set to running again, so the road will not be affected by any storms that blow.

Today's weather bulletin, issued at noon, read as follows:

Forecast: Snow, and cold wave tonight. Fair and colder tomorrow.

The temperature as recorded by S. C. Burnham & Co. during the last twenty-four hours was as follows:
7 a. m. ... 42 above
1 p. m. ... 18 above
Max. ... 42 above
Min. ... 18 above
Wind, west.

GOOSE ISLAND HIGHLY EXPLOSIVE

All the Powder in Town Has Been Moved There For Storage.

There is now stored on Goose Island powder enough to blow Janesville into atoms. All this is the result of the order passed by the common council last week, instructing the chief of police to enforce the powder ordinance. One dealer had twelve kegs stored in his store right in the business center of the city, while a number of others had less quantities, down to one keg.

"I think all the dealers have complied with the ordinance and removed their powder," said Chief Acheson this morning. "Every dealer willingly complied with the order."

"There was powder enough stored in the city to shake up the town right lively, had there been a fire," said F. Pierson, owner of the Goose Island pit. "It is all safe now, so far as the city is concerned. Should the magazine explode, no damage would result to buildings."

"Have you any dynamite in the magazine?"

"There is none in the city. There is very little use for it now in this locality. I had a small quantity a short time ago in the magazine, but I believe it is now all gone. There is no danger anyway as it requires a cap to explode it."

Members of the fire department who are compelled to enter buildings in time of fire feel a good deal easier since the council's precautionary measure was taken.

Bath Tub Seat.

This is something you want. No bath room complete without it. Sloan's bath tub seat is adjustable to any sized bath tub. It is a summer necessity, a home comfort for any kind of a bath; a common bath, a shower bath or a foot bath. It is a pleasure to the old, a safety to the heavy, a comfort to the invalid. A bath for the children made easy with one of these adjustable seats. You can also bathe your feet without disrobing, and no heavy tub or foot bath to empty or lift around. Just the article you want for health, cleanliness and comfort, and to sum up all it is a convenience that when once used becomes a necessity. For sale only by Green & Allen, the plumbers at No. 6 W. Milwaukee street on the bridge, also in operation. Step in and see it.

LECTURE BY PROF. L. D. HARVEY
Second In the Series of Normal School Extension Discourses.

The second lecture in the normal school extension course was delivered Saturday afternoon in the high school building. The meeting opened with a few remarks from the newly elected president F. P. Starr of Afton, who thanked the association for the honor conferred upon him. Prof. L. D. Harvey, of Milwaukee took the floor and for more than an hour held the audience with his interesting and instructive lecture, which was followed by a short and spirited discussion by the teachers and superintendents. The meeting then adjourned. The secretary Miss E. M. Cox writes:

"Though a grand success the number present was small compared with the number of teachers in the county. Let every teacher, both city and country, attend the next lecture, if possible, which is to be held at Janesville, February 2, beginning at 10 o'clock and continuing one hour followed by discussion. Admission 25 cents. To miss these lectures means to miss a splendid opportunity for receiving information pertaining to normal school work."

ONE DAY'S RECORD OF DEATHS

Mrs. Lavinia Smiley.

Mrs. Lavinia Smiley, aged 89 years, 8 months and 9 days, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. D. Beebe of Orfordville, Sunday morning. Mrs. Smiley was born in Luzerne county, Pennsylvania. She came to Wisconsin with her husband, Thomas Smiley, in 1846. They located on a farm near Orfordville, where she resided until the death of Mr. Smiley which occurred in the winter of 1873.

Mrs. Smiley had been a member of the Methodist church for years. She possessed many christian graces that won for her the respect and highest regard of a large circle of friends, and made old age radiant with peace and the future bright with hope of immortality.

Mrs. Smiley had been in feeble health for the past eighteen months. She leaves six children—Mrs. Lyman Inman of Newark; Mrs. S. S. Allen and Mrs. H. G. Terry of Independence, Iowa; Mrs. C. F. Dickey of Broadhead; A. F. Smiley and Mrs. M. D. Beebe of Orfordville. She was a sister of Perry Fisher. The funeral will be held at the Methodist church at Orfordville, Tuesday, January 22, the services being conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Perry.

Mrs. Byron Inman.

Mrs. Byron Inman, better known as Miss Rose Carney, died Saturday morning, January 19. She was taken sick Tuesday, in Polo, Ill., and the dispatch announcing her death was received by Mrs. Frank Sweeney this morning. Mrs. Inman was twenty-nine years of age. She leaves a husband and one child. The funeral will be held in this city Tuesday, the remains arriving this afternoon at 4:05. Funeral services will be held from St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

William F. Randall.

William F. Randall, sixty-six years of age, died early this morning at his home on Glen street. Mr. Randall was born in New York December 30, 1828, and came here about fourteen years ago. He has been confined to his bed since July with consumption, and for some time past has been very low. Three children and a wife survive him. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home. The interment will take place in Marengo, Ill., Wednesday.

Maud Harding.

Little Maud Harding, the eleven-year old daughter of Mrs. Mary Harding, 114 North Jackson street, died at 11 o'clock last night of diphtheria. The remains were laid in Oak Hill this afternoon, the funeral being strictly private. Another child is afflicted with the same disease, but it is reported to be doing well, and out of danger.

Frederick W. A. Heintz.

Frederick William August Heintz died Sunday evening at 5 o'clock, after a brief illness. He was twenty-six years and nine months of age, and leaves a wife and a son, two years old. He had been working a farm near this city, and his death occurred at 67 Pearl street.

John Collins.

John Collins, aged thirty-eight years, died at his home in the town of Janesville today, at 1 p. m. He leaves a wife and five children. Notice of the funeral will be given later.

Notice to Contractors and Builders.

Having purchased the Shopbell Norris planing mill, I am now prepared to furnish estimates on all house-furnishing goods such as sash, doors, blinds, moulding, etc.

I take possession of the mill February 1st, until that time please call at the Hub, 103 W. Milwaukee street.

ENOCH ARDEN "FIT" FOR HIS OLD PLACE

WANDERER CAME BACK AND MADE WAR.

North River Street Family War In Which a Divorced Spouse and His Successor Play Prominent Parts—Other Midway Celebrities Have a Hand In the Ruction.

A war over family succession raged on River street last night.

Some years ago Joe Fountain married a girl who made River street her home. He went away and during his absence, a divorce was secured by his wife, who afterwards married a man by the name of Johnson. Fountain came back and he and Johnson now live, or try to live in the same house. Of course trouble is caused when both try to get the seat at the head of the table.

Last evening Fountain gave his ex-wife a black eye, and she in return gave Fountain a much disfigured face, and not content with this, secured his arrest.

The trouble occurred at a house where the police have had considerable trouble of late. William Farrell was in the disturbance last evening, and Alvira Lord Cox and husband also got mixed up in it. Fountain was the only one arrested, and this morning he got a five days' sentence for being drunk and disorderly. Police are looking for others in the crowd.

Louis Stone, who was reported by Beloit police to have deserted his wife, says that he hasn't. He writes from Clinton as follows:

"I will say right here that the Beloit police or the parties that are looking after my affairs will get themselves into trouble if they slander me any more. My wife is here with me at my father's house and here we both intend to stay. As for leaving her the thought never occurred to me. Who ever started this story lies and had better say no more."

JACK DELANEY GETS THIRTY DAYS.

Stole a Revolver From Ole Brunson and Decided to Plead Guilty.

John Delaney was brought into court this morning and concluded to change his plea of not guilty. He stole a revolver from Ole Brunson and Judge Phelps sentenced him to thirty days in the county jail.

Will Cure a Cough.

Hale's Cough Cordial is prepared from the original prescription of the well known specialist in throat and lung diseases, Dr. Judson Hale, who for years used it in his wonderful successful practice. Before locating in New York, Dr. Hale had practiced in Indianapolis and other western cities, and as there was a constantly increasing demand for his Cough Cordial, the doctor on removing to New York, sold to Mr. Orange Williams the original prescription and the exclusive right to manufacture it. For over twenty-five years it has been offered to the public on the guarantee that it would cure—yes cure a cough or throat and bronchial disease. It is still sold on the same guarantee, and no matter how hard your cough or cold may be, or how many remedies you may have unsuccessfully used, you will find that this remedy will give immediate relief. For sale only by Prentice & Evenson.

Our Vision.

A flickering light is very trying to the eye. One reason why the eyes can do so much more work without fatigue by day than by night is because the action of the sunlight is equal and unvarying. So far as we may, we should imitate the example of the great Architect, and have our chandeliers suspended from the ceiling, or so that the light will fall on our work from above. Where lamps must be placed so as to shine directly into the eye, shades should be used to soften the light. Weary eyes may often be aided, however, by a pair of well fitted glasses. These can be obtained from W. F. Hayes, the optician at F. C. Cook & Co's. opposite the post office.

One Better.
"Madam," briskly spoke up the gent in the check suit, when the lady of the house appeared at the door, "I have here an invaluable invention for daily domestic use—a combination of useful utensils no household should be without, combining, as it does, in one compact tool, a corkscrew, a paper cutter, a can opener, a nut pick, a bodkin, a shoe buttoner, a—"
"No, thank you!" she answered, curtly. "I have all the hairpins I need."
The next moment the door was slammed in his face.—Puck.

Theatrical Item.
Mr. Claude De Vere is an actor. He is an intimate friend of Pete Amsterdam, and the latter frequently goes behind the scenes and chats with the former when he is not on the stage. It was during one of those chats that De Vere said, abruptly:
"I've got to go on the stage and die, and then I'll come back and we'll go and have something to eat and a small bottle."—Texas Sittings.

Acquainted with Grief.
"So you think you can stand the arduous duties of a variety actor? You know, in our play we find occasion to throw you down a thirty-foot flight of stairs into a barrel of scrap iron."
"I guess I can make it," said the hungry man, who had applied for a job. "I was a collector for an installment house for three years."—Indianapolis Journal.

Change of Programme.
Little Ned—Don't take away the light.
Mama—I want you to learn to go to sleep without a light.
"Must I sleep in the dark?"
"Yes."
"Well, then, wait a minute. I guess I'll get up and say my prayers a little more carefully."—Good News.

Who Wrote It.
He (looking up from his book)—I'll bet a Kentuckian wrote this poem.
She—What poem is that?
He—That one in which the line occurs: "Water, water everywhere, and not a drop to drink!"—Detroit Free Press.

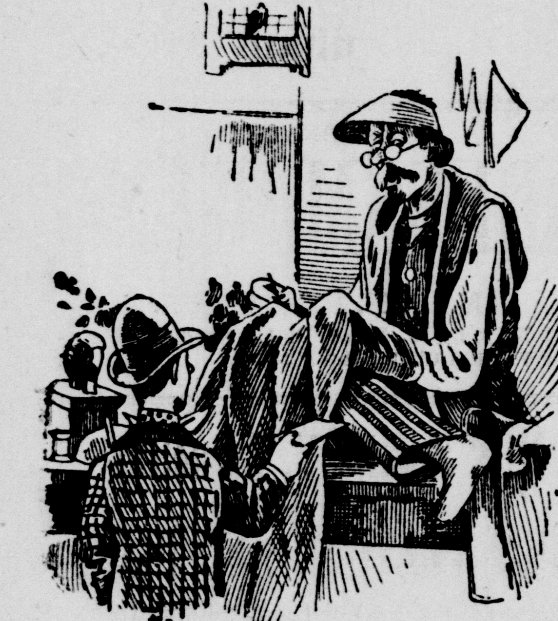

We and They.
Mrs. Watts—Isn't it in Turkey that a woman is not allowed to see her husband until the day of the wedding?
Mrs. Potts—I don't remember, but, anyway, it is not much worse than the American way of seeing so little of him after marriage.—Indianapolis Journal.

Easy to Please.
Tramp—Haven't you got something for me to do?
Farmer—No, I guess not. Not much work now.
Tramp—I don't need much. I can worry along with very little work.—Alex Sweet, in Texas Sittings.

Spanish Humor.
Here is a modern Spanish joke:
"The deuce! I do feel bad."
"What's the matter?"
"I ate a steak of horseflesh and it's going round and round in my inside."
"My dear fellow! It must have been a circus horse."—London Daily News.

Faith, Hope and Charity.
By Faith we live, the preacher says.
By Hope the spinners think.
By Charity the usual way
A tramp gets food and drink.
—N. Y. Recorder.

THE PINK OF POLITENESS.

Tailor (to boy sent out with bill)—Was he very angry at receiving it?
Boy—Oh, no! Quite the contrary, for he asked me to call again.—Chautauquan.

A Safe Stopping-Place.
"Why do so many novels end just at the marriage of the hero and heroine?"
Boy—Oh, no! Quite the contrary, for he asked me to call again.—Chautauquan.

Want the Earth.
Prof. Longhair—What do you consider equal rights?
Miss Shorthair—The possession of what we now have, together with all that man enjoys.—Puck.

Good Prospects.
"What's the outlook for a newspaper in this town?"
"First-class. We've got a map of a railroad, six candidates for postmaster and it ain't ten miles to where the circus shows!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Probably the Hen Gave Them Up.
"I wouldn't want to say these eggs have been squelched," remarked the critical boarder at the breakfast table, "but I do think they've been sat on."—Chicago Tribune.

Economize.
One and a half teaspoonfuls of Horsford's Baking Powder gives better results than two full teaspoonfuls of any other.

The Very Last.
They sat in the twilight and talked of the past.
"Hiram," she was saying, "just twenty years ago to-night I first became aware that you had kindled a flame in my heart."
"Yes, Anastasia."
"That," she mused, reflectively, "was about the last kindling I know of your doing, Hiram."
He did not speak for a long time. When he did it was concerning something else.—Detroit Tribune.

A Bright Boy.
A guest hurried up to the hotel-clerk's counter. He had just ten minutes in which to pay his bill, reach the station, and catch his train. "Whew," he exclaimed, "I've forgotten something! Here, boy, run up to my room, B 48, and see if I have left my toothbrush and sponge. Hurry—I've only five minutes now!" The boy hurried away. In four minutes he returned, out of breath. "Yes, sir," he panted; "you left them."—Demorest's Magazine.

The Boarding-House Turkey.
"Is the fuse laid?" inquired the landlady of the head waiter.
"It is, madam."
"Then fire it."
"I have, madam."
"But the turkey is still whole."
"Yes, madam, the powder had no effect on it."
"Then send for some dynamite, and tell the boarders the turkey is so tender it takes time to carve it."—Detroit Free Press.

A WOMAN'S LIFE.

SOME THINGS MEN DON'T CONSIDER

Thousands of Women Suffer Daily for Years without Complaining.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

Men cannot know the sensibilities hidden in the organisms of women, and suffer without why, and die the ly for want of that relief is so

Dr. E. C. Pinkham forever stand guest in the love of suffering women. Because she discovered the cause of woman's weakness and suffering, and found the means to remove it.

Diseases of the Uterus and ovarian troubles are most universal; you can see their ravages in pale faces; it is indicated by halting steps, dizziness, faintness, irritability, melancholy, extreme lassitude, nervousness, sleeplessness, and disturbances of the stomach.

You will hear your friends speak of the dreadful "backache," the crushing sense of "bearing down."

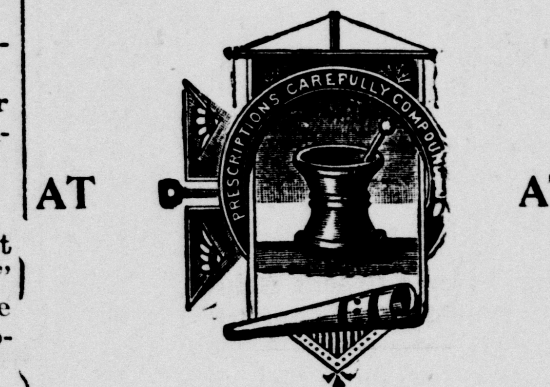

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for twenty years has saved women from all this. Hear this woman speak:—

"No man ever suffered a single pang like unto woman. Women, therefore, gladly turn to a woman for sympathy, counsel, and help in their peculiar troubles."

Lydia E. Pinkham deserves the confidence shown her by thousands. Her Vegetable Compound has done more for women than any other remedy.

"The great cause of woman's misery is in her womb. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound goes direct to the source of trouble, drives out disease, and cures backache, fainting, despondency, bloating, ovarian troubles, and leucorrhoea. I would have been in my grave if I had not taken Mrs. Pinkham's medicines."—Mrs. HANNAH HYDE, Bethel, Ind.

Do you realize the wonderful difference in prices of good bought since Jan 1, 1895, and under the new tariff and goods bought and piled up during past years. We have taken the uttermost advantage of this great decline and are today in the best position of any dry goods firm in this city to take care of our friends and customers. Come to us and we will do you good.
